Ariana Rockefeller Joins Board of Directors at God's Love We Deliver

New York, NY, October 21, 2019 – God's Love We Deliver, a non-profit organization that cooks and home delivers nutritional meals for people with life-altering illnesses in the New York metropolitan area, is pleased to announce that athlete, entrepreneur, philanthropist and member of the John D. Rockefeller family, Ariana Rockefeller, has joined its Board of Directors.

"We are honored to welcome Ariana to our Board of Directors," says Karen Pearl, President & CEO of God's Love We Deliver. "She brings passion for philanthropy and nutrition, as well as dedication to helping those in need, and entrepreneurial talent to advancing our mission."

Rockefeller believes deeply in the power of food is medicine and the importance of providing access to high quality healthy food to underserved communities. She says, "God's Love We Deliver cooks and delivers more than 1.9 million meals a year to people living with cancer, HIV, cardiovascular disease and other serious illnesses. I'm honored to join the Board of this organization, continuing my family's philanthropic legacy."

Rockefeller first became involved with God's Love after attending the Golden Heart Awards, the organization's annual gala. A graduate of Columbia University with a degree in political science, she is markedly influenced by and committed to a family tradition of business, stewardship, and love of the arts and style. Rockefeller is pleased to share her family traditions past, present and future with the world.

"As demand for our services continues to grow, we are grateful that Ariana is joining our Board of Directors," continues Pearl. "We know that with her dedication to our mission, she will help grow our organization and be a tireless advocate for our clients, our volunteers and our community. This is a wonderful moment for God's Love."
